Company: Latambarcem Brewers Pvt. Ltd., Goa, India

About Latambarcem Brewers Pvt. Ltd.:

In one of the most exciting places on the planet, with innovation and growth, that are a part of the weather, there comes potentially, India's best bespoke and innovative beer company, Latambarcem brewers. The name comes from the village and surroundings of our creation, the hub of what we do, our inspiration and dream- our beer factory, in Goa, in the west coast of India, kissed by the sun and the sea. Goa is located in in the western coast of India, with sunny beaches, and is an international tourist destination.

We are a start-up craft brewing company with our new production facility under installation. We are currently installing a production facility designed to produce 50 hectoliters of beer per day.

We will research, innovate and produce international beers with local flavors, maintaining the integrity of beers and yet make them palatable to Indians.

For these creations to take place we need a friend who likes what we do, a brew buddy who will, with his expertise and class create and craft the best beers made in this country.

Why do we feel that the brewmaster would love what he does best, with us?

- Because, we are a company that is based on Innovation, Infrastructure and we work with Indigenous Resources. And above all IMPACT. We will innovate even in the way we farm and get our raw material.
- We will build infrastructure around the brewing industry.
- We will be a global brand, with local spirit.
- We will be the finest ambassador of the culture of craft breweries.
- We will be a completely green company producing zero waste on the principle of renewability.
- We will work with local communities and involve them in our progress. Community is king in our company.
- We will be a globally responsible brand which will take the beer experience beyond the bottle.

We are hiring a Full-Time Production Brewer for our production facility at Latambarcem Brewers Pvt. Ltd., Goa, India.
